

Dr. Ruchi Gosh

Dr. Ruchi Ghosh Dastidar is working as Senior Lecturer since July 1998. Prior to this she was lecturer in the department since June 1992. She has teaching experience of approximately of 15 years. She is involved in teaching students of Sociology, Social work, Law and journalism and Mass Communication. Her areas of specialization are on women studies and Research Techniques. She has attended various Refresher and Orientation courses and participated in large number of national seminar and conferences. She has published various articles in national level journals and written books on Women and home based work and Crime and Women. She is also running several projects with collaborations with other organizations. Dr dastidar is also member of many academic and professional bodies.